

Orff New Zealand Aotearoa

www.orffnz.org

Whakarongo mai, Tui! Ki taku koauau, Tui!
Me taku waiata, Tui, Tui, tui-a.
Listen to my flute, my song, my call.

Professional Development for Teachers Activities for children and families

Island singing retreats.

ONZA is a professional association which encourages and facilitates teachers in their development of a range of Orff-based music pedagogies for use in New Zealand classrooms and other music education settings.

- Orff levels training.
- Three masters-level papers in Orff Music Education: Theory and Practice.

Family Camps

Teachers working!

Our organisation began in 1995 and existed informally for several years. ONZA's constitution was formally adopted in 2005. We began with approximately ten members, and we now have approximately 120 members.

Children playing!

ONZA is a not-for-profit organisation run by music educators. We have a voluntary co-ordinator and several voluntary office holders who are elected biennially. A Memorandum of Agreement has been established with The University of Waikato which has facilitated the development of a course of study in the Orff approach. This post graduate course of study hosted by The University of Waikato incorporates both hands-on workshop activity and academic study.

